Subject: If I link to your blog, will it crash?

Funny story…

Years ago, I was running a personal finance blog, and I wrote an article called "38 Reasons to Hate Money and Everything It Requires." It went viral on a site called Digg, getting thousands of visitors an hour, but then something horrible happened…

My blog crashed. Worse, it wouldn't come back up, no matter what I did.

People started leaving comments in different places like, "Reason #39 to hate money: you don't have enough to buy good hosting." It was REALLY embarrassing.

Assignment Instructions

Here are the step-by-step instructions for this assignment.

Step 1: Pick Your Powerful Promises

Review your list of powerful promises from the previous assignment and pick one that appeals to you as the starting point for a future blog post.

Step 2: Find Headline Templates You Can Use

Review our handy list of headline templates for each of the content frameworks and make a note of any that could be used to deliver the powerful promise from Step 1.

Remember to focus on those that deliver a type of unique value that didn't crop up much in your research.

Try to identify at least three different headline templates you can use.

Step 3: Write New Headlines Using the Templates

When you have a promise and a collection of promising templates, go one-by-one and start writing headlines for each combination of promise and template.

Repeat for 2-3 of your other powerful promises until you have at least 10 headlines covering at least three of the content frameworks.

Step 4: Submit Your Work for Feedback

Use the support form at the bottom of the page to submit your assignment to the forums and receive feedback from our team.
